

*The Kershaw County
Master Gardeners
Present ...*

The Naturalist in the Garden

Tuesday, October 14, 2008

Sandhills Lake House

9:00 A.M. – 12:00 P.M.

Dr. Patrick McMillan, popular host of SCETV program "Expeditions", is a naturalist and biologist who travels throughout the southeastern United States and the Neotropics. In addition to his television program, he has published many articles in SC Wildlife and National Wildlife and continues to teach and provide outreach as a member of the Clemson University faculty. He is also curator of Clemson University's Herbarium. His presentation is entitled "Nature on the Move".

Ms. Janie Marlow is a Master Gardener and graphics designer from Greenville. Janie grew up learning about the woods from her mother and developed a special interest in native plants. Her presentation on NameThatPlant.net, which focuses on native and naturalized plants of the Carolinas, brought the audience at the 2008 SC Master Gardener State Conference in Greenville to a standing ovation, not a common sight at an educational conference.

Registration

No charge for SCMMGA members but registration required for admittance. Register by mail or by emailing Toni Goodwin at cgoodwin7@sc.rr.com with your name and county. Charge for nonmembers is $15.00. Membership applications are available at scmmga.org. Mail registrations should be sent to Toni Goodwin at 216 North Ridge Road, Columbia 29223. 462-1853.

Name _____ County _____

Address _____ Phone or email _____